(By Associated Press)
PARIS, March 16.—France and Russia agreed today that both would fight to defend Czechoslovakia if she were attacked.
Jacob Suritz, Soviet ambassador to France, called on Foreign Minister Joseph Paul-Boncour at the Quai d'Orsay and delivered assurances similar to those delivered by the Soviet ambassador to Prague, that Russia would fight for the defense of her Czech ally.
Paul-Boncour replied to the assurances with a promise that France would fight in the same cause.
Adolf Hitler, Fuehrer of a realm expanded bloodlessly last week by the Austrian coup, had proclaimed himself the "protector" of all Germanic peoples on Germany's borders in his Feb. 20 Reichstag speech. Incorporation of Czechoslovakia's 3,500,000 Sudeten Germans is believed to be the next objective of Hitler's Pan-Germanism.
Both France and the Soviet Union planned to rush fighting and bombing planes to Czechoslovakia if Hitler resorted to force to achieve his objective, informed sources said.
These aerial forces would act as a buffer for the Czech army while it was being mobilized.
Russia, it was said, informed France that Soviet railway lines recently had been connected with Czechoslovakia's transportation network through an intervening Rumanian railway.
Political quarters indicated Premier Blum would make a ministerial declaration tomorrow in the chamber and senate, this to be followed by a debate.
The premier was expected to ask for a vote of confidence only in the chamber, fearing that a senate vote might be an upset.
Blum summoned his cabinet today to decide on steps to safeguard the frontier with Spain and France's Mediterranean route to her African colonies.
The premier conferred through the night with defense ministers and the general staff, and a feeling was apparent in official circles that the latest developments in both Spain and Austria could lead to grave consequences.

Czechoslovakia---Will She Be The Belgium Of Another World Conflict?

View of Prague

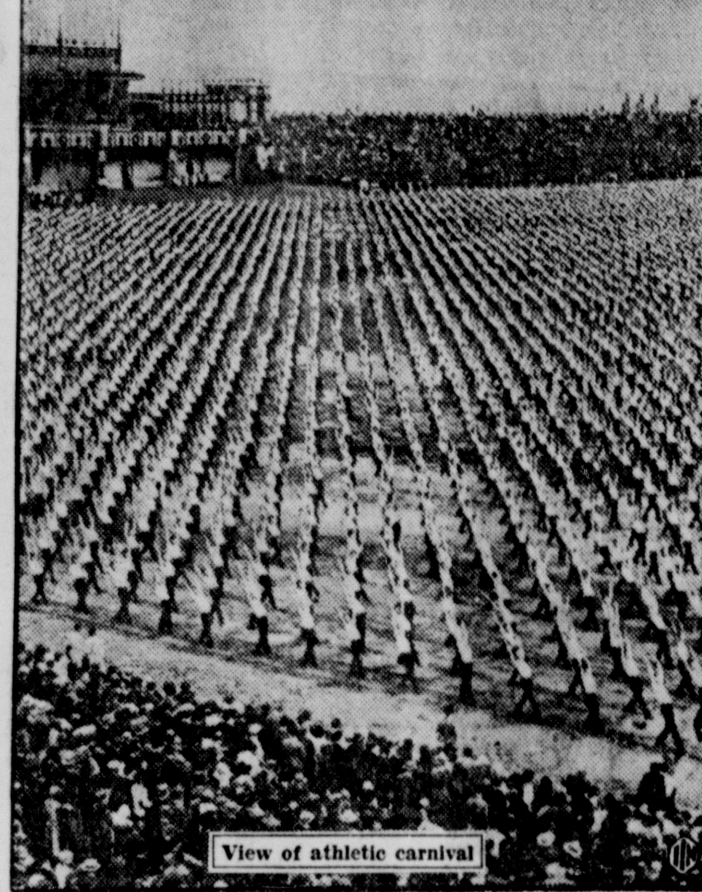

Premier Milan Hodza

Map of Central Europe

Czechoslovakian troops

View of athletic carnival

Czechoslovakia—Belgium of a second World war? The world wonders as its government takes a firm stand against Nazification. Premier Milan Hodza denies that German Czechs were being mistreated and declares his nation will defend itself to the utmost. The outcome, perhaps, depends on the extent to which Britain sides with France in supporting Czech independence. At the right, above, is seen one source of Czech strength, the generally fine physical condition of its people. The above view was seen at an athletic congress in Prague, which will be duplicated again this July at the tenth annual Sokol congress in which 45,000 participate.

Rome--- FEAR NOT! DUCE TELLS ITALIANS

Approves Austrian Absorption; Will Defend Own Borders

(By Associated Press)
ROME, March 16.—Benito Mussolini today promised his people that the Pan-German expansion never would penetrate Austria and Italy, but at the same time pronounced a benediction on Adolf Hitler's absorption of Austria.
"Our frontiers are sacred," Il Duce shouted to an assemblage that filled the chamber of deputies.
"We will not discuss them. We will defend them."
His promise was broadcast to all Italy. It was the premier's reply to doubts of his own people alarmed over the extension of a mighty German state to the Brenner pass, gateway between Austria and Italy.
In public squares throughout Italy Mussolini's followers gathered around loud speakers to hear Il Duce, hoping for reassurance concerning the German surge southward.
Neither the declaration of Saturday's Fascist grand council nor repeated assertions in the press that the Anschluss bore no menace for Italy had entirely appeased popular anxiety and chagrin.
Mussolini declared it would have been an "historical and political absurdity" for Austria, a German state, to have remained independent and anti-German.

RAIL CROSSINGS TO BE GUARDED

Utilities Commission Orders Protection; Conference Called

The state public utilities commission has recommended to the Pennsylvania railroad the establishment of better grade crossing protection on Wilson and W. Pershing sts., it was revealed as railroad officials from Pittsburgh prepared to confer here today with city officials.
Steps toward getting gates in operation 24 hours daily, or having warning signals erected at the two grade crossings were first taken last summer after four young persons lost their lives when a passenger train struck their automobile on Wilson st.
The railroad notified the city officials it would send a representative today to consult with solons on the matter.
Mayor George Harroff said the conference would be between members of city council's safety committee, Safety Director C. E. Donahue, himself and the railroad men. Council's safety committee comprises Charles Rheutan, Charles Renkenberger and Fred S. Smith.
Today's development follows an investigation and survey of the two crossings by O. J. Harrington, inspector for the P. U. C. O. Harrington visited both crossing scenes several months ago, compiled his report and submitted it, together with photographs of the crossings, to the commission.

They also decided to act favorably at their meeting next Monday night on legislation that will put the problem directly to the voters in the form of a proposed levy, which if voted would restore operations to their present level and assure continuance of WPA projects.

The pay withheld totals $300 and the auditor explained it was being done until certain litigation in the court battle over the engineer's office is cleared up.

Vienna--- NAZI ECSTASY SIMMERS DOWN

Begin to Look for Profits Promised by Hitler Regime

VIENNA, March 16.—Nazis of the German province of Austria called a halt today to four days of patriotic ecstasy and began to look for the profits promised under the regime of Fuehrer Hitler.
Many firms, in expectancy of better times under the accomplished union with Nazi Germany, granted double or half pay increases for one month. Others offered to buy Nazi party uniforms for their employees.
Stores that had been closed since Saturday reopened.
The National bank announced immediate payment of funds owed to Austrians by Germans. These funds had been tied up in Germany by exchange clearing agreements.
Exportation of timber—one of Austria's biggest industries—was prohibited because Germany expects to absorb the immediate output.
Textile factories were putting on double shifts to manufacture Nazi uniforms, now in great demand.
Hjalmar Schacht, president of the Reichsbank, arrived yesterday and was arranging withdrawal of the Austrian schilling from circulation. The schilling will be replaced by the Reichsmark, German unit of exchange.
Flush with spending money, German soldiers and storm troopers continued to keep cash registers of beer cellars, coffee houses and night clubs ringing merrily.

Berlin--- HITLER CALLED BACK TO BERLIN

Hears Poland Has Presented Ultimatum to Lithuania

(By Associated Press)
BERLIN, March 16.—A German army source said today that Reichsfuehrer Hitler was returning hurriedly to Berlin because he had received word that Poland had presented an ultimatum to Lithuania expiring late today.
Details of the ultimatum were not known, but it was believed based on a frontier clash of March 11 for which Poland was demanding satisfaction.
Hitler, returning from his triumphal annexation of Austria, left Munich for Berlin at 2:45 p. m. (8:45 a. m. in Salem) today.
The army source said originally he had intended to remain several days longer in Vienna, where he concluded his historic four-day Austrian visit yesterday, but that the Polish-Lithuanian crisis called him back to Berlin.
The Polish press has been attacking Lithuania angrily over the border fight between frontier guards in which a Pole was shot and killed. The newspapers declared the man was ambushed deliberately.
There have been reports Poland wants to annex Lithuania, but official circles in Warsaw emphasized that Poland rejected any such idea.

This group also will play between the second and third acts.
The entire program is under the direction of the Young People's club of St. Paul's church. Previously it was announced that a second performance, for adults, would be given if necessary. However, it has been definitely decided that there shall be only one evening performance, that Thursday evening.
A children's matinee will be given Sunday afternoon. The club announces that adults may attend, however, if they wish.

"Salem Lucky So Far, But Is Not Immune", Says Chief, As He Recalls Dangers of Recent Fires In Business Area

A plea for adequate ladder equipment for the Salem fire department was sounded by Fire Chief Vincent Malloy before members of city council Tuesday night.

Recalling two recent fires in the downtown business section, the chief pointed out that the department felt lucky because the blazes were discovered before they had gained too much headway. Had the fires cut off all entrances, such as stairways and accessible roof entrances, the firemen would have been without ladders capable of reaching second and third story windows to get at the flames, he said.

REPORT SEWERS ARE INADEQUATE

Plant Official, Home Owner Complain to City Council

Complaints of storm water and sanitary sewer trouble were heard from two sections of the city when city council met Tuesday night.
Both cases were referred to the sewers committee for investigation.
In a letter to council, R. F. Ben-zinger, president of the Electric Furnace Co., said the storm water sewer on Wilson st., at the junction of the Pennsylvania railroad tracks, was no longer able to handle even a moderate flow of water, and that during every hard rain the water backed up several feet in the working part of the plant.
Heavy Damage Possible
The company official warned that, unless the trouble is corrected, spring rains may cause thousands of dollars worth of damage in the shop.
Benzinger added a postscript, which read: "Since writing this letter an hour ago, the water has risen to the front door."
Ernest Hoobler of 169 Ohio ave., appeared before the councilmen last night to ask that steps be taken to eliminate storm water and especially sanitary sewer overflow in his neighborhood.
According to Hoobler, the sewer line there is inadequate and the service water backs up into cellars continuously, creating a health hazard.
Councilman-at-Large A. P. Morris indicated his sewer committee would look into the cause of the trouble immediately.
Several other residents of Ohio ave. already have voiced complaints to city officials.

TRIUMPHATE

Forgetting about the harsh things being said in the Tennessee Valley Authority squabble, a man from Mars might wonder how anyone could expect harmony from such an arrangement.

Congress creates an "authority," and the chief executive vests the authority in three men. One is chosen because he's an authority on flood control, one because he's a lawyer with a bias against private power utilities, and one because he's an intellectual. They are expected to administer not only the vague provisions of a sketchy law, but to fill in the blank spaces with their own decisions on questions of public policy.

Two members join hands to force out the third one. They talk about the sacredness of majority rule as though the accidental harmony of their philosophies had something to do with majority rule. They revile the third man—the minority—for refusing to indorse all their decisions. This would look mighty silly to a man from Mars.

Apparently, the United States is going to hear a good deal about the methods of the new liberalism as practiced in TVA. It may conclude that delegating authority to a handful of individuals with nothing to guide them but the "set" of their minds is a poor way to do business in a government whose elected officers are held accountable to the people for the acts of their appointees.

PICKING THE RIGHT CLASS

Now that the Rev. Fr. Charles E. Coughlin has come out at last with a plan for the corporative state in America, with representation in government according to classes, it behooves everyone who thinks the world's most famous radio priest knows what he's talking about to start picking the right class early.

The big thing is to sign up with the class which has the most votes, because it will get the most gravy. That's farmers. But a fellow can't be a farmer just by saying so.

Right at the outset, therefore, it's plain that a lot of earnest Americans are going to end up in the back row with the pretzel benders, vaudeville actors, oboe players, flagpole sitters and other hopeless minorities. With a party system, what you believe is more important than what you do for a living. Under a class system, it wouldn't matter a hoot what you thought as long as you did the right thing.

Somehow or other the idea doesn't sound as though it would go over very big in this country—not even with the premiums which Fr. Coughlin offers to the customers, such as settlement of labor disputes by congress and exclusion of government from business "except in rare instances."

Americans would rather be Republicans, Democrats, Moose, Elks, Woodmen of America and Old Age Revolving pensioners any day than street cleaners, laundry workers, steel workers and pencil pushers. It must be due to the great open spaces or something.

AS A REASONABLE MAN

Nazification of Austria is a fact. Speculation turns to the question: What next? Will Germany strike again while the iron is hot?

As a reasonable man, Reichsfuehrer Hitler would be content to exploit what already is under his control. He would do this because to attempt to dominate more territory would be to take a greater risk than the German army and the civilian population are prepared to take.

He would do this because in his present position he can dominate additional territory in central Europe without inviting the showdown which would follow further invasions.

He would do this because it has been the trend of experience that conquerors always are tempted to bite off more than they can chew. They gain confidence from success. They lose touch with reality.

He would do this because the bold Nazi fiction of saving Austria from itself did not fool anyone. What little morality remains in the world has been rubbed raw by the evasiveness of the Nazi method of raising political hell to create disorder which they intend to use as an excuse for exerting discipline.

He would do it because he has said he does not want war, but only restoration of the foundations of German prestige. He has restored those foundations by making Germany the most feared nation on earth. He has power, and the other nations of the earth believe he is willing to use it. No one minimizes Germany or its reichsfuehrer any more. But is Adolf Hitler a reasonable man? Does he

COMPENSATION FUND BALANCE REACHES NEW PEAK

COLUMBUS, March 16. — The Ohio workmen's compensation fund was bulging today with approximately $53,577,000, its largest balance since the peak of $54,738,000 was reached in 1929.

At the same time the number of employers contributing to the state insurance fund had increased to the record-breaking figure of 46,021, the number of workmen protected by the insurance was estimated at more than 1,600,000.

The state industrial commission, reporting on 1937, pictured one of the most prosperous years for the fund since the present system providing death, injury and occupational disease benefits for Ohio workmen and their dependents was set up in 1924.

Contributions increased $4,248,000 over 1936. Benefits totaling $16,009,000 were paid, a gain of $1,829,000 over 1936.

A. D. Caddell, commission secretary, said improved business condipossess the balance which has been so conspicuously lacking in the other megalomaniacs of history and of his own times? If the answer to that question were known, the answer to what Adolf Hitler and his Nazis would do next would be: They will do nothing.

An era of peace would be in sight, as far as Adolf Hitler's part in its making was concerned.

THE STARS SAY:

For Thursday, March 17

A day of many problems and perplexities is read from the ruling lunar and mutual aspects of important planets. Things will be lively to the point of excitement and commotion, but not all this stirring about will be desirable or contribute to happiness. On the contrary, there may be sorrow, grief, misfortune and a surprising turn in the intimate affairs, unless precaution and discretion be exercised. Much merriment is in sight.

If This Is Your Birthday

Those whose birthday it is may find themselves in a very active, lively and exciting year, with many angles that may cause problems and perplexity. A surprising or unaccountable event may cause anxiety, and there may be a grief or bereavement. Still, there are signs of lively functions for the young.

A child born on this day may be jolly, full of life and fun and, at the same time, serious and studious. Its fine mentality and gracious social instincts may enhance its popularity and cultural contacts.

1936, had been reduced to 1,465 at the end of 1937, despite the filing of 3,525 additional claims for rehearing. The commission has disposed of 5,763 rehearing claims since April, 1936 and the disposition of cases per month has increased 300 per cent, it reported.

The 46,021 employers contributing to the insurance fund at the end of 1937 represented an increase of 2,197 over the previous year. Claims for benefits filed by workmen last year totaled 237,311, an increase of 33,117 over 1936. The commission and its four district boards conducted 351,501 hearings on claims, or 37,728 more than in 1936.

The legislature, spurred by a report of the Ohio government survey criticizing conditions in the industrial commission, set up four district claims boards and appropriated funds for the employment of additional auditors, referees, stenographers and attorneys.

An accumulation of rehearing claims, which totaled 3,643 in April, law.

BACKACHE

Most persons call every pain in the back "lumbago". Any discomfort in this region is thought to be due to this condition. It is the old-fashioned name for backache. Whether it is a form of rheumatism or is due to muscle strain, one who has ever had it will say it is terribly annoying.

Back pain may be caused by one of many things. It most commonly follows excessive or fatiguing work. The muscles of the back are strained and may become inflamed.

It may be the result of habitually wrong posture or some physical defect. One who has flat feet, for example, may have his body out of line, with disturbance of the spine.

Others have some abnormality of the spine itself, or suffer from "sacro-iliac" strain, as it is called. Any one of these conditions may produce backache.

Backache may be the result of some disturbance of the vertebrae, the individual bones of the spinal column. Such disorders follow tuberculosis, inflammation of the bone or arthritis. It may be a complication of some constitutional disease.

Due to Exposure
Perhaps the most common cause of backache, particularly at this time of the year, is that which follows undue exposure to cold and dampness. In such cases the discomfort is due to an actual inflammation of the muscles of the back. It is especially common in elderly individuals.

Backache may be the result of an infection somewhere in the body. For this reason the doctor is always interested in checking on the condition of the teeth, the tonsils and the nasal sinuses. He may extend his investigation to the gall bladder, the intestines and other organs.

The application of some liniment or ointment to the back may give temporary relief of the pain, but it is by no means curative. It is absolutely necessary to get at the root of the trouble and locate the original source of the irritation, inflammation or infection which leads to backache.

In an acute attack of backache,

EXTRA FARE

SYNOPSIS

Jaxie Cameron, lovely young newspaper columnist, travels west aboard the Big Chief, extra-fare train, in search of copy for "The Friendly Corner" column in the Chicago Star-Tribune. Tommy Ackerman, staff photographer, sees her off, taking a flashlight picture as Jaxie waves farewell from the observation platform. Inside Car 74X, Mose, the porter, is installing those who, for three dramatic days, are to be companions in the swift rush to the coast. Among the passengers, Jaxie identifies as a bride a girl who dashes into the train laughing excitedly.

CHAPTER II

She was followed instantly by a grinning young man whose hat and shoulders dripped grains of rice and whose arms were laden with bags and cases of vivid orchid leather.

Mose did not require the evidence of the rice to register the newcomers as bride and groom, and he hurried forward, beaming benevolently, to relieve the self-conscious young man of his burdens.

"Yes, sir! I guess you-all take room A, if ah'm a guessah," Mose said, lower nine, isn't it, Marie?"

"Yes, nine," laughed the girl in a shrill voice, still waving at the gawking group on the platform and blowing kisses.

Mose shrugged again and turned about into the car, leading the way to the farthest end. "Wrong again," he mumbled to himself.

A stout, bland gentleman already was settled in section 9, his worn Gladstone bag tucked under the seat that rode forward. He was reading a sales brochure that proclaimed his profession and he glanced up inquiringly as Mose arrived with the shining new orchid luggage, the gushing, giggling bride and the blushing, wriggling bridegroom in tow.

"Ah reckon you-all's gonna hab kinda close quatahs heah," Mose observed, and winked at the bland gentleman, who grinned broadly in response. "How 'bout settin' dis heah hat box jes' inside dat drawin' room dah, till we know ef it's gonna be occupied?"

The wary bridegroom cast a dubious eye toward the indicated drawing room.

"Just so you don't charge us extra for the space," he laughed ruefully. "I told you that do-dad was one too much to take." He turned toward the girl excitedly bewildered and striving for composure.

"Oh, Harry dear," she chided him gently.

"Coase dey ain't no extry charge," Mose replied with good nature, fitted the rest of the pieces into place, his color-loving eye delighted with the orchid leather and estimating its worth in a swaggering bridegroom's top. "Das all right, sah," he rambled on with his monologue. "Ah's a married man myself, sah, and ah knows all 'bout dis heah honeymoon business." Another exchange of glances with the bland gentleman.

He stood aside for the bride to take the forward seat which the bland first occupant of the section had proffered, and became aware of the touch of the young husband's hand as he pressed something into his. Of course embarrassed bridegrooms always were shy about paying tips in the presence of new wives. Mose closed his hand expectantly and almost dropped the coin in his astonishment. A thin dime! Four pieces of orchid leather baggage were good for a dime! In spite of his years of experience with humanity Mose was still easily deceived by tawdry surface display.

"My gawd!" he ejaculated as he hurried away. "How I does pity dat gal what have jes' acquired dat tightwad for a husband!"

But his manner and expression betrayed nothing of his thoughts as he hastened forward to meet a new group of passengers just entering the car hesitantly. A grave-faced man carried a baby on one arm and a scared brown leather suitcase in the other hand. A plain little woman followed, holding a small boy by the hand and clasping two smaller bags of cheap patent leather that proclaimed their recent purchase for the occasion.

"Lower 7?" the man said inquiringly, as Mose collected the bags indelicately and indicated the section. "How long before you leave?"

"Bout five minutes, now," Mose consulted his wrist watch and bustled away, having bowed his thanks for the quarter which the man evidently had had ready in his hand.

The woman glanced around the car, shyly, sat down and took the baby on her lap and appealed to her husband, who was occupied with removing the small boy's coat and cap. The child's eyes stared wide with the novelty of this strange place which was called a train. He had played with trains for as long as his abbreviated memory could recall, but this was so overwhelmingly real and different than even his youthful imagination had conjured.

"Oh, Ed, I'm so frightened about going alone," the little woman murmured. "I wish you were coming along to help manage Junior. And think if Mother should—"

"I know. I'd go with you if I could leave—and we could afford it, Carrie. Brace up, dear, perhaps Mother will be much better by the time you get there. Let me know right away, won't you? Be a good boy, Junior, and help Mummy with sister."

Junior suddenly puckered his face and wailed, "I wanna do home wiv daddy!"

"Sh! There, there, Junior! See all the people looking at you!" his mother entreated with panic. How young we are taught to fear what people will think! "See—daddy has to go, now. The train is going to start. Listen, do you hear the bell?"

Junior stopped wailing to listen for the bell, but his mother's voice sounded more strange to him—strained with anxiety and choked with unshed tears. Her husband kissed them all hurriedly and fled, as the train began to move.

Two women in section 8 across the aisle exchanged grim glances of consternation.

"Wouldn't it be just our luck," observed the thin, high-nosed one who wore eyeglasses and a dull black crepe dress of last season's mode, "to have two crying children right across the aisle for three days on a train, after teaching forty noisy, squirming youngsters for nine months and saving our hard-earned money for a vacation?"

As the train began to move, Jaxie Cameron, Star-Tribune columnist, who expected to miss nothing on this trip, going or coming, hurried into the observation car, which was filled to capacity, and proceeded to the rear platform. That small rectangle of space was crowded, also, but already the passengers of the Big Chief were growing tolerant of close proximity, as companion travelers quickly do. Each one conceded the fact that everyone else desired to share the thrill of being on the rear platform when the Limited pulled out of the terminal, and shifted obligingly into the smallest space. A half dozen persons occupied the chairs under the awning and the others stood against the gleaming brass rail. As Jaxie opened the screen door and hesitated, two of the standees moved aside to provide space for her. One of them was the tall young man whose eyes had met hers when she left the platform some ten minutes before. Their glances met again, momentarily, and Jaxie experienced a fleeting reaction that was new in her wide experience of meeting and associating with men.

His glance flashed into a half smile that seemed, without preamble, to bridge their lack of acquaintance, even while there was nothing presuming about it. His eyes were very blue, even in the garish light, and their gaze caused Jaxie a momentary sensation of giddiness—or was it the sudden speed of the train, as they stood at the end railing with space gliding away from them, faster and faster?

The train slipped through innumerable skeleton frames of bridges which reminded Jaxie, even in her chaotic state of mind, of that childish game of "Button, button, who's got the button?" and its gapping, half-opened hands of empty inquiry. Under the bridges the black oily surface of the river mirrored the flashing lights of the train that slipped over it like a necklace of gleaming jewels.

They clicked and jolted over section crossings, swerved suddenly at such an angle that those standing at the end of the railing received the full benefit of the whip-crack, and Jaxie swayed precariously from her balance. Instantly, the arm of the man beside her reached out to steady her.

2 Famous artists—McClelland Barclay and Neysa McMein—consider Plymouth's clean-flowing lines and luxurious interior appointments outstanding among low-priced cars.

3 Plymouth's seats are deep-cushioned, "chair-high." And Plymouth's "radio studio" sound-proofing absorbs tiring road noises.

5 Driving a 1938 Plymouth is a new experience. It steers faster, handles easier than ever. And clutch pressure is greatly reduced.

6 Plymouth's double-action hydraulic brakes are self-equalizing...give the smoothest, safest stops of any type of brakes made. And the handbrake is a completely separate system.

7 Still more safety for your family—Plymouth has an all-steel body, a Safety Styled interior, and Safety Glass at no extra cost.

8 The new 1938 Plymouth's big "L-head" engine gives you full-powered performance—yet owners report 18 to 24 miles on gas.

Bad breath is death to romance. And bad breath is frequently caused by constipation. Just as headaches, sleeplessness, weakness can be produced by it, or most skin blemishes aggravated by it!

Dr. F. M. Edwards, during his years of practice, treated hundreds of women for constipation and frequently noted that relief sweetened the breath and improved well-being and vitality. For his treatment he used a purely vegetable compound—Dr. Edwards' Olive Tablets. This laxative is gentle, yet peculiarly effective because it increases the bile flow without shocking the intestinal system.

Help guard against constipation. Use Dr. Edwards' Olive Tablets. At all druggists, 15¢, 30¢ and 60¢.

HELP STOMACH DIGEST FOOD

Without Laxatives—and You'll Eat Everything from Soup to Nuts

The stomach should digest ten pounds of food daily. When you eat heavy, greasy, coarse or rich foods or when you are nervous, hurried or else poorly your stomach punts out too much food. Your food doesn't digest and you have gas, heartburn, nausea, pain or sour stomach. You feel sour, sick and upset all over.

Doctors say never take a laxative for stomach pain. It is dangerous and foolish. It takes those little black tablets called Bell's for Indigestion to make the excess stomach fluids harmless, relieve distress in 5 minutes and get you back on your feet. Relief is so quick it is amazing and one Bell's package proves it. Ask for Bell's for Indigestion.

County Must Repair Span, Stouffer Says

LISBON March 16.—Prosecutor Karl Stouffer informed Columbiana county commissioners this morning it is their job to repair a closed overhead bridge near East Palestine, and not the task of the Pennsylvania railroad, whose lines run underneath.

The prosecutor's ruling followed the receipt of an opinion from Attorney General Herbert S. Duffy, who cited a law, passed in 1923, which placed the problem of maintenance and repair of overhead bridges with the counties involved.

The commissioners' hopes hinged on an agreement which the Pennsylvania railroad made with Unity township trustees April 27, 1933. The attorney general said the 1923 law rescinded the old agreement.

MITES PLANNED BY GIRL SCOUTS

Salem Troops Plan Observance of Movement's Anniversary

Girl Scout Troops 1 and 2 of the Methodist church are joining with other groups throughout the country this year in celebrating the 27th anniversary of the founding of the movement in the United States.

The members pay tribute to Juliet Lowe, founder of the movement, who was born in 1860 and died in 1927. More than two million girls of the country participate in the educational and recreational activities of the organization.

The first troop was started here a year ago in June, sponsored by the Methodist church. Roy West and Rev. H. J. Thompson were instrumental in beginning the group here which has since gained enough members to be divided into two troops of 30 members each.

The girls, who enjoy scholarship, proficiency, first aid, crafts, home-making instruction, have become active enough to buy a troop flag, enjoy several parties and carry on their own activities. Several of the members have perfect attendance records.

The girls are planning an entertainment for parents within the next few months to illustrate the subjects they have learned.

In charge of the troops are: Troop 1, committee, Mrs. Thompson, Mrs. West and Mrs. Charles Wolf; leader, Mrs. C. J. Lehwald and assistant, Mrs. Donald R. Aubill.

Troop 2, committee, Mrs. William Merry, Mrs. Maude Jones and Mrs. F. F. Wells; leader, Mrs. Orin Naragon and assistant, Mrs. Dale Wilson.

Ice Cream Sales Business Barometer

COLUMBUS, — The use of ice cream sales trends as a barometer of general business is suggested by Prof. R. B. Stoltz of the Ohio State university department of dairy technology.
In support of his theory, Professor Stoltz offered a graph depicting ing sales trends from 1926 to 1938, which conformed closely with charts of business activity.

"While it is true that business recessions hardly can be halted by people doubling their ice cream consumption," Professor Stoltz asserted, "cautious people who really want to know actual business conditions should get the figures on ice cream sales to compare with the pronouncements of industrial oracles."

Champions Are Determined In Three City Basketball Loops

Althouse Quint Captures Title In Class A League; Whit's Garage Also Wins

McKinley School Cagers Cop Championship In Mickey McGuire League; Class C Play-Off All Even As Methodists Win

Season's championships in three of four city basketball leagues had been decided today following second games in play-off series at the Memorial building last night.

The Class A championship was held by Althouse. The Class B championship was won by Whit's Garage. The Class C championship was won by McKinley school cagers.

The lone league remaining with its championship undecided is Class C, which saw its play-off tossed into a deadlock last night when the Methodists stopped the Baptists, 29 to 19.

The Baptist quintet won the first game of the Class C play-off and needed the victory last night to win the championship. The third and deciding game of the Class C series will be played next Monday night.

Bringing to an end the Class A play-off, the Dodgers gained their second straight victory over Shasteen's Sinclair Service Station cagers. The score of the contest was 28 to 26.

In chalking up their second successive play-off win, the Dodgers were forced to stave off the Sinclairs' last-quarter rally which came near ending in victory for the Shasteen quint.

The Althouse five held a comfortable lead during the first, second and third quarters, but faltered in the final period and permitted the Sinclairs to pull within two points of tying the score.

The Sinclairs scored eight points to the Dodgers' four in the final frame and were closing in fast when the contest ended.

A first quarter scoring spree in which they tallied 12 points to the Sinclairs' three proved an important part in helping the Dodgers to remain out in front throughout the contest. At halftime, the Althouse team was in the lead, 17 to 11.

Individual honors for the Dodgers again went to Al Catios, who found the hoop for three field goals and seven free throws to tally 13 points. Bob Jeffries bagged 10 points for the new champions.

Whit's Garage captured the Class B championship by defeating the Columbian, 27 to 18. The Garage-men won the first game of the Class B play-off Monday night by a score of 21 to 17.

Milliken paced the Whitmen to their second victory, scoring nine points on four field goals and one free throw. The Garage team held a small lead during the first half, then spurted in the second half to win going away.

The Methodists had but little trouble in defeating the Baptists, 29 to 19, to even the Class C championship series. The M. E. team was out in front all during the game and held a 15 to 10 lead at halftime.

McKinley school cagers were far too strong for the Baptists in the second game of the Mickey McGuire league play-off and chalked up a 27 to 11 victory without any difficulty.

Green tallied 11 points and Enright 10 to lead McKinley to its second victory and the McGuire loop championship.

HOLDOUT STARS STAND FAST IN THEIR DEMANDS

Joe DiMaggio In Center Of Group Which Has Not Signed

By HUGH S. FULLERTON, Jr. NEW YORK, March 16.—In the absence of any such vociferous upholders of the baseball player's right to argue about his salary as the retired Babe Ruth, Dizzy Dean or recently-signed Lou Gehrig, it appears the holdout situation in the last month before the major league season opens will revolve around Joe DiMaggio and about a dozen other guys.

At the rate the recalcitrants have been falling into line lately the chances are most of the dozen others will be signed soon. There aren't more than five or six "regulars" on the list and most of them are devoting their time to being stubborn rather than noisy.

Outside of DiMaggio, the known holdouts are Wally Moses, who recently left the Philadelphia Athletics; Zeke Bonura of Chicago's White Sox; Eric McNair of the Boston Red Sox; Julius (Moose) Solters of Cleveland; Harland Clift and Red Kress of the St. Louis Browns; the perennial dissatisfied Joe Stripp of the Cards; Dolph Camilli, the Dodgers' expensive purchase, and Heinie Manush, also of Brooklyn, and the New York Giants' peculiar pair of Les Horn and Cydell (Slick) Castleman.

The signing of Paul Derringer yesterday after a noisy seance cleaned up Cincinnati's list except for Chick Harley, who is not expected in camp and isn't considered a real holdout although he was offered a chance to come back.

Camilli finally has started for the Dodgers' camp where Larry MacPhail will have a chance to work on him. Castleman is insisting on remaining at home until he's satisfied his back injury is fully healed instead of reporting to camp where Manager Bill Terry can decide.

Horn, headed for Jersey City anyway, thinks he can get more money in the Eastern league. That leaves it squarely up to the DiMaggio-Ruppert argument to fill the headlines. Ruppert reached the Yanks' St. Petersburg camp the other day, issuing ultimatums en route that Dr. Mag would sign for his figure ($25,000) or someone else would get his job. Joe still is in San Francisco, claiming he won't take a cent less than $40,000.

Tokyo To Be Scene Of Next Olympics

CAIRO, Egypt, March 16.—The International Olympics Congress definitely announced today the 1940 Olympics would be held in Tokyo, Sept. 9 to Oct. 26.

The proposal by the Chinese delegate, Dr. C. T. Wang, that the games not be held in any country at war was rejected.

The congress accepted Japan's suggestion, supported by Italy and Germany, that the games be held later in the year due to the heat and humidity prevalent at the end of August, the original date.

DAHLGREN OUT AFTER GEHRIG STARTS DRILL

Senators Reported To Be Interested In Buying Paul Chervinko

ST. PETERSBURG, Fla., March 16.—Now that Lou Gehrig is in the New York Yankee camp, Utility infielder Babe Dahlgren can put away his first baseman's mitt. Lou worked out yesterday and probably will be in every exhibition game except today's tussle with the Boston Bees.

ORLANDO, Fla.—Owner Clark Griffith of the Washington Senators is reported to be interested in buying Paul Chervinko, stocky catcher traded to Brooklyn by the St. Louis Cardinals. Griffith visited the Dodgers' camp yesterday.

TAMPA, Fla.—Pitcher Paul Derringer, latest member of the Cincinnati Reds to join the fold, will report today. He is reported to have received a contract for $10,000 with the promise of a bonus for a good season.

NEW ORLEANS, La.—Jeff Heath, one of the Cleveland Indians' most promising young outfielders, will be in uniform when the Tribe plays the Philadelphia Phillies today. Heath signed for around $6,000, leaving only Outfielder Julius Solters a holdout.

LAKELAND, Fla.—Rookies Mark Christman and Don Ross will share the third basing when the Detroit Tigers open their exhibition schedule against the Washington Senators here Sunday.

PASADENA, Calif.—Rip Radcliff, regular outfielder for two years, is getting plenty of attention at first base for the Chicago White Sox with Zeke Bonura still a holdout. Radcliff, ranked behind Gerry Walker, Mike Kreevich and Larry Rosenthal in the outfield at present, hit .324 last season.

NO DARK HORSE IN CAGE EVENT

Team that Appeared Like Threat Loses Out In Second Round

DENVER, March 16.—Railbirds hanging around the edges at the National A. A. U. basketball tournament still are hunting a dark-horse threat that looks like the real thing. They hope to uncover one today when the 16 teams meet in the third round.

They thought for awhile they had one yesterday in the Oakland Golden States, a bunch of midwestern basketball veterans transplanted to California.

Oakland came here with only six players but four were former All-America stars—Melvin Miller, Johnny Callahan, Ross McBurney and Bill Wheatley. But the oldtimers faded after a valiant effort and lost to the strong-looking Harmons of Chicago, 33 to 32.

The east lost its three remaining colorbearers yesterday when the Middletown (O.) Armos, Cleveland Aces and General Electrics of Schenectady, N. Y., all were handed tickets home.

The tournament's only remaining college entrants, Warrensburg, Mo., Teachers and Montana State, meet tonight.

The Bartlesville, Okla., Phillips, with practically the same team which finished runner-up to the Safeways in 1937, faced the Portland (Ore.) Packards.

"Sudden Death" Rule On Way Out, H. R. Townsend Declares

Nine Players In State High School Cage Tournament To Observe Birthdays During Play

By FRITZ HOWELL. COLUMBUS, March 16.—The "sudden death" overtime rule, under which the team scoring two points in the extra period is the winner, is on its way out in Ohio high school basketball tournaments.

H. R. Townsend, state high school athletic commissioner, said today that although the "sudden death" regulation would govern the Thursday, Friday and Saturday state classic at the fairgrounds Coliseum, it probably would be voted out for all county, sectional, district and state tournament games next season.

The commissioner said that "Lady Luck" played too great a part in deciding contests under the rule, and that he would advocate the playing of at least one full overtime period in the future before invoking the quick-finish statute.

Berths in the state tourney came as birthday presents to nine players, five in Class A and four in Class B.

Canton McKinley, rated as the Class A team to beat, and Akron St. Vincent, the team with the poorest Class A record, have two each in the "birthday" class. The players with birthdays this week are:

Canton McKinley—Carl Fiore, March 14, and Edward Long, March 19.
Akron St. Vincent—Joseph Burns and Don Walters, both March 15.
New Philadelphia—Charles Swihart, March 16.

Beltsville—Harry Lee Bozarth, March 14.
Willshire—Jack August, March 14.
Hartsville—Michael King, March 19.

Fifteen of the 32 state tourney contestants, 11 in Class B and four in Class A, make their first starts in state tournament play this week, never having gained the championship round since the state athletic association took over the meet in 1923.

The Class B newcomers are New Boston, Genoa, Cadiz, Radnor, Hartsville, Beltsville, North Baltimore, and Canfield.

Canal Fulton weighed in with the "prize" however.

Wellington (Spink) Ketter, its star center, is a senior, but his brother Junior is a sophomore.

Columbiana P-T. A. Hears Rev. Gobrecht

COLUMBIANA, March 16.—Rev. Walter R. Gobrecht was speaker at a meeting of the Parent-Teacher association in the high school auditorium last evening. His topic was "Three Character-Building Allies." The program also included an instrumental quartet, Mildred and Eleanor Cotton, violinists; Marguerite Ramery, flutist; and Ellen Esterly, clarinetist, accompanied by Dorothy Poulton, under the direction of Miss Lucille Funkhouser, school supervisor of music.

Mrs. Carl Keller presided at the session, appointing a nominating committee of Miss Nell Koch, Mrs. P. J. Wilson and Mrs. Samuel Lindsay, to report at the April meeting.

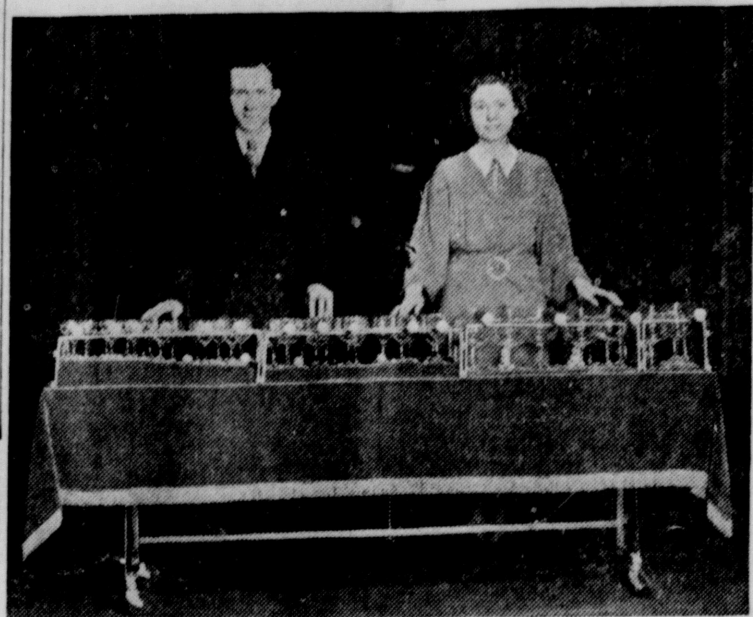

Miss Belva Switzer and her seventh grade group was awarded the attendance prize for the fourth time in six recent meetings.

The association will sponsor appearance of Bradley Kincaide and his Mountain Boys, radio entertainers, at the high school auditorium on April 22.

Asks Federal Aid

WASHINGTON, March 16.—Representative White (R., Ohio) said today that he would introduce a bill asking $25,000 for federal participation in the anniversary celebration of the Battle of Lake Erie which he proposes should be held at Put-In-Bay and Sandusky, O. He opposed a suggestion of Representative Crosby (D., Pa.) that the celebration be held at Erie, Pa.

Plan Music At Baptist Church

Mr. and Mrs. Wilbur Fish, "The Gospel Musicians", from Columbus will present "The Life of Christ in Music", a service of sacred music, at the Memorial building at 8 p. m. Friday.

The instrument pictured above is a large set of musical glasses. There are 34 glasses in all, seven from Czechoslovakia and the remainder from Belgium. They are tuned with water to give the correct tone.

In addition to the musical glasses a variety of instruments will be used in this unique presentation. They will use a set of piccolo-cowbells, musical saw, vibra harp, piano-accordion, and piano. These instruments will be used singly and in various combinations.

"The Gospel Musicians" are coming to Salem under the sponsorship of the First Baptist church choir.

Freed On Bond

CINCINNATI, March 16.—Dana J. McAdow, former teller and bookkeeper of the Farmers and Traders National bank of Hillsboro, awaited federal grand jury action today on a charge of embezzling $2,311 of the bank's funds.

McAdow appeared in U. S. Commissioner's court yesterday and waived further examination, originally set for Friday.

He was freed on $2,500 bond.

Florida's Choice

Hits School Sign

Leon Hitley of Canton told police his truck hit a school sign on S. Broadway, near Columbia st., at 12:30 p. m. Tuesday when he swerved the machine in an attempt to avoid striking a child who ran out into the street.

The child was not hit, but the school sign was damaged.

Charles Gordon of New Philadelphia told police he accidentally backed his truck into a parked machine on downtown E. State st. yesterday.

Quartarians Hear Violinist

R. E. Odey, violinist, accompanied by Walter Regal, delightfully entertained members of Salem Quota club at their meeting in the Memorial building last night.

Richard Arlen and Mary Astor in a scene from "No Time to Marry", comedy featured at the Grand tonight and Thursday on a double bill.

Two pictures show at the Grand tonight and Thursday. The first feature is "No Time to Marry". Richard Arlen, Mary Astor and Lionel Stander are the main players in this hilarious magazine story by Paul Gallico, and they turn in sparkling performances. So, too, do Virginia Dale, Marjorie Gateason, Thurston Hall, Arthur Loft and others.

Wedding Bells Scheduled
Perry Brown (Arlen), star reporter on the Daily Blade, and Kay McGowan (Miss Astor), crack sob-sister of the newspaper, are scheduled to get married Christmas Eve. Two hours before the wedding, the city editor finds out that Eleanor Winthrop (Miss Dale), Boston heiress, has disappeared. Perry refuses to go out on the story. Then the managing editor summons him and orders the reporter to obtain two goats for the managing editor's son immediately, as they're to be a Christmas present.

Perry comically gets involved with the heiress and together they go goat-hunting. Perry's frantic search for the goats, his sweetheart's getting him out of jail after he filches a goat from the zoo, and countless other looney episodes make "No Time to Marry" a certain cure for the blues.

Frontier Story
The other picture is "Rolling Caravans", a story of the opening of America's western frontiers to new settlers. The love-story of a girl and a cowboy played by Eleanor Stewart and Jack Luden, is a part of the tale.

Lafe McKee, Harry Woods, Buzz Barton and Tuffy, a remarkably sagacious dog, are other players in a picture that has its share of comedy and music as well as thrills. The story concerns the movement of the girl's family to locate a rich farming site on the new land long before mapped by her father.

Luden and two cowboy pals come to their defense when they are beset by outlaws. When one of the desperadoes obtains possession of the map showing the choice land and determines to claim it for himself, there ensues a series of clashes and chases in which the outcome is long uncertain, despite the heroic efforts of Luden and the dog, Tuffy.

DEMANDS DEATH IN ROGERS CASE

Prosecutor Faces Accused Man Monday in Milk-Man's Slaying

weeks ago. Both prosecution and defense have six peremptory challenges with which they may eliminate prospective jurors without causes. No limit is placed on challenges for cause.

If past procedure is followed the jury will be taken to the scene of the crime immediately following its selection. There the jurors will be given a first hand view of the spot where the East Liverpool man was shot. A school bus probably will be used to convey them.

Defendant Unconcerned
Attorney John Bauknecht of East Palestine will act as special assistant prosecutor in the case replacing Louis Tobin, Stouffer's regular aid. Tobin defended Dudley Adams, now serving a life sentence in the penitentiary for the same crime. Adams will testify as a state's witness.

Meanwhile the defendant composedly awaits the proceedings in his cell at the county jail—the same steel bound room which confined Borgwardt for a time. Leg irons which he wears day and night are designed to prevent a repetition of his sensational escape two years ago.

Rogers spends his time playing solitaire or reading. He offers little comment on the approaching trial and apparently is unconcerned over his fate.
